GOD'S WELCOME FOR ALL

As we have opened this year, which is a really different kind of opening, I have been made keenly aware of God's incredible welcome in this world. This pandemic has really hurled us into a different way of seeing our lives and of being people together in this world. At first, we hardly knew how to be and now we are slowly finding our way aren't we? But it's still really hard.

We have always talked about swinging wide our church doors... and now as many churches are not meeting, they are swinging the other way, forcing us to go out into the world and be God's welcome in ways we perhaps have not even thought of before.

We have been invited to be God's love in the world in creative ways and perhaps listen to the Spirit around how to celebrate one another, how to acknowledge one another in new and different ways.

We have become more keenly aware of those who have been lonely in our world for a really long time. We have become more aware of those who suffer with hunger and worry around job security. Many who have had no worry around money have found themselves jobless and struggling to make ends meet. We have not been able to be with our loved ones as they die and are ill and now we find ourselves not even with our church families. This pandemic, although so devastating is reminding us to SEE one another in completely different ways and I think in some ways SEE one another for the first time.

In all of this.. we are reminded that God's welcome is for all. I believe that perhaps this is being driven home in ways we have not even thought of before. For the first time in years we are united in a struggle and in a cause to care for our neighbor and to work as one to keep one another safe. We are reminded that love has to take many different and new forms.

Today as I write this I wanted to talk a bit about this welcome that we are learning to have for one another which begins with the welcome our Lord has for and for all people.

Our church has a mission statement. "Sharing Jesus Christ with All People." What does this mean in our moments these days?

Our Lord showed us in his time on this earth that he welcomed all people. We find him connecting with everyone... with the poor especially, with the sick and yes... even with those with dangerous diseases like leprosy. He connected with and was welcoming to those who were considered unworthy in the eyes of the land and the church. He loved the rule keepers and all others alike.

There was no one when Jesus was on this earth who he did not open to spending time with and caring about.

In Matthew 25 and 36 we hear these words around what Jesus said about how God sees our welcome of him through the people we welcome. This passage was written telling the people of God's heart for people which would become clear on the last day.

"For I was hungry and you gave me food, I was thirsty and you gave me drink, I was a stranger and you welcomed me, I was sick and you visited me, I was in prison and you came to me."

And when asked where they did this for the Lord while on earth... the reply was this in verse 40.

"Truly I say to you, and you did to the least of these my brothers, you did it to me."

As we are called to be God's immense welcome to all people... we are required to not leave a single person out of that welcome. God welcomes you and me so fully. We need to welcome others with that same welcome.

There is a poem credited to Lois Blanchard Eades that I would like to share with you today.

IF JESUS CAME TO YOUR HOUSE.

If Jesus came to your house
To spend some time with you,
If He came unexpected,
I wonder what you'd do.

Oh, I know you'd give your nicest room
To such an honored guest
And all the food you'd give to Him
Would be the very best.

And you would keep assuring Him
You're glad to have Him there—
That serving Him in your home
Is joy beyond compare.

But when you saw Him coming,
Would you meet Him at the door
With arms outstretched in welcome
To your heavenly visitor?

Or would you have to change your clothes
Before you let Him in
Or hide some magazines
And put the Bibles where they'd been?

Would you hide your worldly music and put some hymn books out?
Could you let Jesus walk right in, or would you rush about?

And I wonder—if the Savior spent a day or two with you,
Would you go right on doing, the things you always do?

Would you go right on saying, the things you always say?
Or would life for you continue as it does from day to day?

Would you take Jesus with you everywhere you go?
Or would you maybe change your plans for just a day or so?

Would you be glad to have Him
meet your closest friends?
Or would you hope they stay away,
until His visit ends?

Would you be glad to have Him
stay forever on and on?
Or would you sigh with great relief when He at last was gone?

It might be interesting to know,
the things that you would do,
If Jesus came in person, to spend some time with you.

By Lois Blanchard Eades

As we consider God's welcome for you and for me, a welcome of open arms and complete forgiveness and of adoption as God's child, let us be that kind of welcome to all in this world.

In these days of pandemic... we cannot welcome people into our churches or homes in the same way right now... but we can welcome people in so many other ways.

Let us find creative ways to open our hearts and our doors.

And let us look for those to welcome and to share of God's love that perhaps we might shy away from or even perhaps cross the street when we see them coming.

Let us welcome everyone with open arms for as we do, we welcome our Lord.

Blessings on you this day and as you find your way in this very different world.

Blessings to you as you look for ways to be God's welcome in this world.

Remember you too are loved also and welcomed by your Lord.

I welcome you also if you want to talk or pray together or just connect in this difficult time to call our office or give me call.

In the love and welcome of our God,

Pastor Bev

Bishop's Message For Congregations and Lay and Rostered Leaders

Dear Beloved of God –

The Gospel according to Mark does not begin with angels, a prophetic dream, or a miraculous birth. Instead, the gospel writer hurls us, ready or not, into a lonely and barren wilderness – a desert – where everything either bites or burns or stings.

As Jesus emerges from the baptismal water, the heavens are ripped open, the Spirit descends like a dove and the voice of God proclaims, “You are my Son, the Beloved, in you I am well pleased.” And immediately, Jesus was driven out – hurled out – into the desert to be tormented by wild beasts and tempted by evil. (Mark 1:1-12)

It’s not exactly what you would expect, is it? God was pleased, even well pleased with him. And yet, he was hurled from affirmation and love into a desert-like wilderness of sand and heat and wild beasts and temptation.

Experts say deserts are formed under unique climactic conditions. Maps show that they cover about 25% of the earth’s surface. Globes indicate that they are found only between specific latitudes. That is what the experts say. But we know the truth about the wilderness, don’t we?

The truth is that sometimes – no matter where we live or how far we travel – the wilderness is all we can see.

Despite weather reports or average rainfall charts, we find ourselves in the wilderness: blinded, sunburned, dying of thirst.

This desert can feel so familiar that we name every shriveled plant, every venomous snake, every blistering ray, every irritating grain of sand. Sometimes, the wilderness feels a lot like home, a lot like now, and what we’ve experienced this past year.

The single mom, stretched so thin that she almost disappears, knows the desert of exhaustion and guilt. The rejected child, watching silently outside the playground, knows the desert called loneliness. The ill, newly aware of test results and consultations, know the desert of fear and uncertainty. The grieving, now alone, know the desert of unwanted solitude. Parishioners, reeling from scandal, know the desert of a trust betrayed.

The truth is, deserts are not found only in Africa, or in Nevada, or in the Sinai Peninsula. Some of the harshest wildernesses are not marked on any map. They lie just around the corner, or in your living room, in the very heart of your life.

But there is something more about the wilderness – something more that Mark wants us to hear: Jesus has been there first. Here is the Good News of Mark’s opening scenes. No wilderness is so remote, barren, inhospitable, or filled with danger that Jesus has not walked there first. And Jesus’ presence here reminds us something else: despite all appearances to the contrary, the wilderness is filled with life. A handful soil swirling in the hot wind can be filled with hundreds of seeds, waiting for a chance to bloom. That withered plant still has living roots deep underground. That landscape, empty in the harsh light of day, comes to life in the moonlight with reptiles and insects.

Even at its most desolate, the wilderness is ready to bloom at the first sign of life-giving water. Maybe that is why the scriptures speak of the wilderness as a place for discovery and transformation.

And there is more: the angels waited on him. Jesus is not alone. He is cared for in the wilderness, receiving sustenance and nourishment.

And this is our experience too – for in the wilderness of our 40-day Lenten journey, and over this past year – we have also been given sustenance: the Word, the Eucharist, community, family, opportunities for service and action.

This Lent finds many of us traveling through the wilderness, wrestling with demons and tempted by evil. We may feel like we have been thrown out into the wilderness. Some people might look upon this journey and despair.

But we know the truth about the wilderness, don’t we?

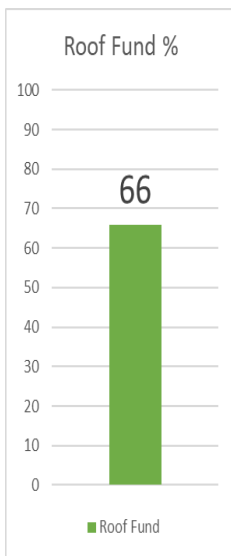

In Christ Jesus –

Shalom,

+Bishop Larry Kochendorfer

The Continuing Story of Lutheran Schools in Colombia

What does "CELCO" stand for?

Colegio Evangelico Luterano de Colombia or

Lutheran Schools in the Evangelical Lutheran Church of Colombia, South America

CELCO schools are private schools and require students to pay tuition. Public schools are paid for by the government. In the November Messenger, an article by Bishop Larry described the quality of these schools. Here is an extract from the November Messenger to remind us of why students go to these Lutheran schools:

"The students told us that they not only believed that they were receiving the best education possible which prepared them for post-secondary education, but that they also were receiving a well-rounded education where they learned values of love, respect, integrity, and character. They underscored the value of a Christian education where grace and faith were demonstrated."

There are 4 CELCO schools in Colombia, but here are details concerning one more of these schools with the name CELCO El Cocuy which Bishop Larry and the Alberta Synod members visited:

El Cocuy is situated in the Andes in northern Colombia, close to Venezuela. This school started in 1940 for the same reasons as the other missionary schools, in order to give protestant children a safe space to learn. The school had to close in 1949 due to the La Violencia but in 1955, when the situation improved, Elizabeth Heerde and Valborg Torkelson went to work in El Cocuy and a large house was bought that would serve as parsonage, chapel and school. In 1956 the community was organized as Iglesia El Salvador with missionary Harold Olson as pastor and director of the school until Pastor Gerhard Ostrem returned in 1957 from furlough. In 1957-58 Pastor Gerhard mentored evangelist Oliverio Moro. When Oliverio was ordained, he became pastor of the church and director of the school. Since then the Moro family has continued to be involved in the school and now, Oliverio Moro Navante, nephew of the original Pastor Oliverio, is the director.

Today there are 200 students in Collegio CELCO El Cocuy. With its motto "EDUCATE FOR LIFE" it has been and continues to be an oasis of peace in all kinds of situations, especially during critical times of violence. CELCO El Cocuy is known for its Christian formative education which generates and promotes life.

In support of children struggling to meet the fees at these schools donations are encouraged from Messiah members. Cheques may be made out to Messiah Lutheran Church with "Lutheran Schools in Colombia" shown on the detail line.

Council Highlights for January 2021

Happy New Year everyone. There is hope on the horizon as vaccines arrive, the sun shines longer each day, and we all continue to reach out to connect and care for one another during this time of isolation. In her devotion opening last week's Council meeting, our President shared a passage from Hebrews 10:15-25 reminding us of the assurance we have from God and the need to "stir up one another to love and good works."

Pastor Bev underlined how happy she is to see the many ways people are using the internet and phone to stay in touch and to grow through the studies in Mark, Philippians, ALPHA, and virtual coffees. These initiatives have also drawn people who are not members of Messiah and may not live in Camrose. This is and continues to be a learning and creative experience.

A new ALPHA session begins Tuesday, Feb. 9 at 6:30. See the link on our website messiahcamrose.ca to register.

It was agreed that Messiah would not re-open for in-person worship yet, but that we would be alert to changing conditions and regulations.

Thank you everyone for your financial support. See our Treasurer's note elsewhere in this Messenger.

Vice-President, David Dahle, is assembling a Nominating Committee. Don't wait to be approached. If you would like to be on a Committee or Council, let David know. We are in this together.

Committees are reminded to submit their budget requests along with a brief rationale to the President by March 1.

The 2020-2021 Annual General Meeting is scheduled for Sunday, June 6, 2021.

Bulletin Board Displays always brighten up our church!

Thank you, Signe Harder!

Donations of Used Stamps

Thanks to Cathie Bartlett who has kindly forwarded our used stamps to 2 organizations for use in their fundraising efforts. A large number went to the Leprosy Mission.

Cathie has since found a way to forward used stamps to the Canadian Bible Society. This donation will help the CBS to provide the Key to Freedom Bible for prison ministries across Canada.

So we encourage you to keep saving your used stamps and bring them to the church office and Cathie will forward them.

She recently received a letter from the Canadian Bible Society and here are quotes from that letter:

"I cannot imagine this ministry being as relevant to the lives of the inmates we meet without the Key to Freedom Bibles. We have seen more men saved in jail in the last two years than any other time, and CBS has played an important role in that!" (Bill, a Prison Chaplain.)

"Thank you again, to all involved for taking the time to collect and send used stamps, to us.

May God bless you, for your efforts!!" (Bessie Govostis, Receptionist and Administrative Assistant, Human Resources, Canadian Bible Society)

A Grief Group will be starting in February and will be led by Pastor Bev Swanson and Diaconal Minister MaryAnn Pastuck.

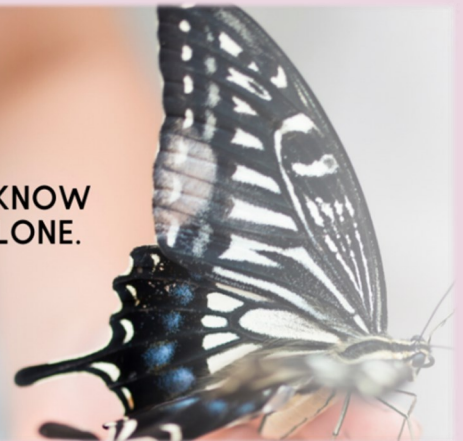

If you are interested, please call or email the office to register at 780-672-3444. Please indicate whether you could participate by Zoom during the day or would prefer in the evening. Pastor

Bev is also available to speak to individually if you do not feel comfortable with a group setting.
