Pastor's Ponderings

"We should plant a tree in our new yard!"

So announced our son Daniel as soon as he found out that we were moving. Although it was still winter when we moved in, and our yard was buried under what seemed like a mountain of snow, he could see underneath that blanket of white to the growing season ahead.

What a brilliant idea, we thought! A great way to celebrate a new home and a new place, and knowing that the best time to plant a tree was twenty years ago, we made the decision not to wait too long.

The good news: our new tree has been planted! We chose a sour cherry — Evans variety — because what's more fun than a fruit tree, and we wanted one that wouldn't grow to be too large, and could start producing fruit right away. Thanks to a couple of months to get to know our new neighbourhood, we decided to plant it in our backyard, safely away from the mouths of hungry deer that like to enjoy the buffet at the front of our house.

There was such hope as we dug the hole in the ground and carefully buried the roots. And although it's almost impossible to imagine what a tree will be when it's grown, we have tried to guess how the branches might develop, how high the canopy might be, and how much fruit we might get — maybe even this year!

When asked what he would do if he knew the world was ending tomorrow, Martin Luther is famously credited with saying, "I would plant a tree." I've heard scholars say that he probably didn't say this, but I don't care! He's naming living with hope in the present, even knowing what the future might be. He's naming a vocation of care for the earth that is our human responsibility in the here and now. He's naming a trust in God that's at the heart of faith, for today and for tomorrow. It all sounds like Luther, whether he said it or not. Who would have thought planting a tree was a such a faith-filled activity?

Messiah's Annual Meeting is Sunday, June 11th. You have done the work of calling a new pastor and beginning a new collaborative ministry. These are exciting things! But there are still trees for us to plant, aren't there? What are the saplings of ministry that we can establish today to provide for the years ahead? What are the seeds that we are laying in hope for a future that we can't predict — for new ways of impacting people with the life-giving gospel of Jesus?

The new trees we are planting may look like ones that have been important to Messiah in the past, like new varieties of cherries or apples or maples: ministries like music programs or refugee sponsorship or community service. Or they may be saplings that we have never planted before, and we are not sure how they are going to do in today's soil. And that's ok, too. Planting is always an experiment: trusting God to bring abundance in God's good time and care.

I look at our new cherry tree at home and I smile as I am filled with hope. I anticipate the jam that will be made. I look forward to the day when the branches will be strong enough to support a feeder, and the birds find shelter among the leaves. I ponder planting another to make the trees even more fruitful.

I look around at our congregation and I smile as I am filled with hope. I anticipate what God will do among us and with us at Messiah. I trust that we can faithfully plant our saplings today, not knowing how those trees will grow, or what the challenges might be, but that in God's grace and care, we are always rooted in hope.

Peace be with you beloved ones of God at Messiah!

Pastor's Message

The "Wild" Holy Spirit

We have had quite a season of drought... not a lot of rain so far at least.

Sometimes a few drizzles until the other night when we got a bit more. Its not so great for keeping the fires down... Its been a rough spring for that... they have gotten quite out of control. Its pretty scary when things go out of control. There is really not a lot we can do sometimes... It is not easy to find our homes engulfed in flames and some of our people here in Alberta have had this happen this Spring. There have also been some huge winds in Eastern Canada that have taken down trees.

The Spirit of God is also likened to fire and wind. Although not a wind and fire that takes over in a destructive way, there is something very out of control about how God's Spirit moves. The Scriptures say that the Spirit moves where he/she wills. The thing is we cannot control the movement of God. We like to try sometimes but we truly cannot. Some of this is quite lovely... for the presence of the Spirit was sent to bring us guidance and comfort and help... to be there with us. Who would not want such a beautiful gift?

In Isaiah 44: 3 we hear these words, "For I will pour out water on the thirsty land. And streams on the dry ground; I will pour out My Spirit on your offspring and my blessing on your descendants.. " What a lovely picture... of God pouring the Spirit of the living water upon us... and upon those we love... like a blessing.

We tend to see this Spirit only with the eyes of gentle love... but there is something very "out of control" about being filled with God's Spirit and it is not always a gentle thing. In fact it is sometimes rather wild. So what do we do with this "wild" Spirit... that moves in ways we sometimes don't even appreciate, guiding us often to places that are uncomfortable, sending us out into unknown territory and places we do not really understand to do and be in ways that are not always comfortable?

There is indeed sometimes something "unruly" about the Spirit of God, sometimes a bit wild... like a wild wind that blows where it wills. It reminds me of the huge horse that I rode bareback as a child across the prairie she took off with me hanging on for dear life - no longer in control. The Spirit cannot be corralled, like a wild horse.

In John 3:8 we hear these words, "The wind blows where it wishes, and you hear its sound, but you do not know where it comes from or where it goes. So it is with everyone who is born of the Spirit."

So when we sing the song, "Spirit of the Living God, fall afresh on me" like a prayer (and it is one of my favorite songs) we are truly asking God to move in our lives in whatever way God wants to move. This may be in ways that are not easy at all. We are asking the gentle presence of the Spirit to move in and not only be with us but to lead and guide us in ways that may not be easy. We are essentially letting go of control. We are asking for the Holy Spirit to move in and through us and to let God's incredible love into our lives and then to flow that love through us to the whole world.

In Philippians, the apostle Paul said he was taken hold of by God and because of this he was willing to do anything to be in relationship with his Lord.

So let us not be mistaken, to be filled with the Spirit of the living God is truly one of the best gifts ever and it is a place of letting go of that precious control that we like to have in our lives and be moved, be "taken hold of" by God. We are called to be the love of God in this world and through the power of the Holy Spirit, we too can be this love in ways that are unimaginable. What a gift! What a wild and beautiful presence!

Join me in this prayer of surrender...

In the love and power of the Spirit of God...

Synod of Alberta and the Territories

Evangelical Lutheran Church in Canada

Dear Beloved of God –

Plans are well underway for our Synod's journey to The Evangelical Lutheran Church of Colombia (IELCO), our Companion Synod Partner, from July 24-August 3.

Twelve participants will experience, embrace and engage in "Daunting Challenges – Wellsprings of Hope" through the varied contexts and ministries of IELCO and of the Lutheran World Federation World Service office, through relationships formed and deepened with our siblings in Christ, and through many opportunities for learning and listening, for discovery and community.

It has been a gift and transforming experience for me to journey with, and to facilitate these journeys, with youth and adults from our Synod since 2009.

During our 2011 journey to Colombia, Rev. Eduardo Martinez, Bishop at that time, was asked to share his thoughts regarding the value of mission experiences such as ours, which focus on the building of relationships – for Synod participants, and for the people, congregations, missions and ministries of IELCO. He responded:

- this mission journey enables the participants to experience the context of ministry,
- this mission journey strengthens relationships – we are able then to pray specifically and to share one another's story,
- this mission journey encourages individuals, congregations, missions and ministries of IELCO through listening, learning and affirmation,
- this mission journey enables each to experience similarities and differences, yet we are all the same,
- this mission journey enables the members, congregations and ministries of IELCO to know that they are not alone; instead, they are a part of a large family around the world,

- this mission journey encourages all to see different ways of living the faith – of being Christian in daily life in different ministry contexts, and
- this mission journey affirms the history of missions and missionaries in Colombia from Alberta.

I scrambled to write these words in my journal that day. Today these words strike me in a new, different and fresh way as I consider my own ministry context. As lay and rostered leaders, as congregations, as Synod, as the ELCIC, we journey together in mission learning of one another's contexts for ministry. Relationships are strengthened and we are able to pray for another with specificity and share one another's stories. Ministries are encouraged through listening, learning and affirmation. We journey in mission together experiencing similarities and differences, yet we are the same. We discover that we are not alone but part of a family – a congregation, a Synod, the ELCIC, IELCO, the Lutheran World Federation, the Anglican Church of Canada, the Moravian Church, and so on. We journey together in mission seeing a multitude of ways of daily living the faith in various ministry contexts, and we affirm our history and experience of being in mission together.

Would you pray for our Synod delegation and for the IELCO family as together we experience, embrace and engage in "Daunting Challenges – Wellsprings of Hope."

In Christ Jesus –
Shalom, +Larry

Treasurer's Report May 2023

We ended our last fiscal year on April 30 with an unplanned surplus of about $40,000. One of the reasons was a bequest of $20,000 from Neta Specht's estate that was designated for the general fund, and another was a one-time donation of $10,000. It needs to be noted that these were one-time contributions.

Another significant factor leading to the surplus was that the budget included funding for an added half-time pastor for half the year. As it turned out Pastor Jeff came with only six weeks left in the year.

Preliminary financial statements for the past year are included on pages 48-53 of the Annual Report, which is now available.

Included with the financial statements in the Annual Report is Church Council's recommended budget for 2023-2024. You will note that it includes a deficit of about the same amount as the surplus of last year. In many ways this will be a another year of transition as Pastor Bev serves half time with the congregations at New Norway and Bashaw, and as Pastor Jeff becomes acquainted with Messiah. While we expect offerings will continue to increase they are unlikely to cover the increasing expenditures. Using last year's surplus to assist us through this year of transition allows us to continue services and programs at their present levels without major change. It will be important for us to plan carefully towards a balanced budget in years to come.

I welcome any questions or concerns about the financial statements or the budget. Please feel free to call me at any time.

Respectfully submitted,
Dave Stolee, Treasurer

Council Report

Our devotion this month based on John 16:16-24 reminded us that although we are sometimes confused or uncertain, we can rely on Jesus' words that we will see him again and that He is always with us and will guide us.

As our year winds down and we prepare for the Annual General Meeting on June 11, following a potluck lunch, we see light and activity not winding down, but gearing up. All current Council members have agreed to stay on during this transition year into a new model of collaborative ministry. So far it is going well. Pastor Bev is delighting in meeting the people in the rural parishes and Pastor Jeff has begun a series of Cottage Conversations to help him get to know the people of Messiah. The wonderful Senior Teas will also continue this spring and summer.

A Messiah - Renewal 125 committee is being formed with goals and ideas for renewal and celebration of our 125 anniversary in 2026.

In September, we will begin work on a new photo directory. Pictures will be taken September 26-30.

Although we pray for rain, we also hope that the leak in the flat roof over the fellowship centre can be easily fixed. The Support Committee has highlighted two concerns: the repair or replacement of the flat roof, and elements of the sound system for broadcasting our services. Neither is a new concern, but the timing may be coming clearer.

We see that God has indeed been guiding us this past year as we moved into new territory, welcomed new people, started new programs like Martha's Table hosting. We look forward with joy and thanksgiving.
